EMERGENCY VEHICLE SPECIALISTS

SERVICE TECHNICIANS PRESS RELEASE

For nearly 25 years, H&W Emergency Vehicles has become well known as a regional fire apparatus manufacturer, emergency vehicle dealership and emergency vehicle repair center with a long-standing reputation for manufacturing durable apparatus, selling quality emergency vehicles and providing vehicle service. During this time, our customers also have come to rely on the highly trained and experienced technicians in our Service Department.

In a continuing effort to provide our customers with the best possible service, we have hired two fine service technicians. Both come with years of experience and, because of their knowledge and expertise, have many loyal customers—one of them may have worked on your emergency vehicle!

Frank Moffat joined H&W after serving with the City of Redmond for over 28 years as the Apparatus Program Supervisor, where he was responsible for emergency vehicle maintenance, shop management, safe driving and the inspection of a fleet of emergency vehicles. Frank also has been very involved with the Washington State Fire Mechanics Division and served as President for many years. Frank is the current Washington State Fire Mechanics Conference Coordinator of Education. He was instrumental in establishing the EVT Testing process in Washington State and proctors many of the EVT tests. Frank joined our service team four months ago and is the lead Emergency Vehicle Technician (EVT) at our Marysville, Washington Service Facility.

Peter Hereth joined H&W after working as a Master EVT and Firefighter/Mechanic at the Snohomish County Airport Fire Department Service Facility in Everett, WA. Peter now serves as a full time Firefighter with the airport and joined H&W over 12 months ago, serving our Washington customers at our Marysville, Washington Service Facility. Peter has the distinction of being the youngest person in the nation to receive his Master Emergency Vehicle Certification (EVT) and maintains that each year through his association as a Board Member of the Washington Fire Mechanics Division of the State Fire Chiefs Association. Peter specializes in electronics and electrical issues. If you have one, he can fix it!

Frank and Peter are two great additions to our growing Washington service department. Their expertise, along with the skill and knowledge of our other associates, continues to assure that our customers receive the highest quality service at costs which are competitive with local independent shops.
